

2026 EBSP INTERNS

My name is Mckenzie Scott. I am a junior at North Greenville University and I live in Greenville, SC. I am a biology major with a concentration in animal and environmental science. I would love to use my degree to get a career in coastal conservation and work outside, especially on the coast. I love the Carolinas and the lowcountry and I would love to spend my life learning about and helping the ecosystems there. I love art, the ocean, music, and going to concerts. I'm looking forward to the beach being my home, getting to work in a field that I want to pursue in the future, and learning new things!

My name is Larlyn Cook. I am originally from Northern Virginia but go to school at the University of South Carolina as a marine science major. I really like to cook and read and I am really looking forward to making new friends, turtle fest, and being apart of the turtle nesting season in general!

My name is Maris Jones and I am an upcoming third year environmental science and business administration student at the University of South Carolina. I am from Charleston, South Carolina and spent my summers growing up in the Edisto area. In my free time, I enjoy reading, working out, and watching Gamecock Women's Basketball. A fun fact about me is that I am left-handed! In the future, I'm not exactly sure what I want to do, but I'd like to go into either outreach or consulting.
